Wheat harvesting varies from 11 to 100 per cent cut or swathed in Central Alberta where the weather has been changeable. Five to 90 per cent of the wheat has been threshed. Some light damage resulted from frost in a few points. Others reported grain lodged by winds and heavy rains.

In the Peace River area harvesting is again in full swing. Wheat cutting is about 50 per cent completed, oats 75 per cent and barley 60 per cent. Threshing of wheat is about 10 per cent completed. Yields are good.

Harvesting in the Edmonton region now has been uninterrupted for a week.

Threshing will be general this week-end if good weather continues. Some increase in the tough grades, is reported in this district. However, yields are above average.

Alberta's totals were: Cut—wheat 81 per cent, oats 82 and barley 88; (1951—wheat 37 per cent, oats 39 and barley 43); threshed—wheat 38 per cent, oats 38, and barley 51.

PAIR FLY 6,500 MILES ON PHOTOGRAPHIC SURVEY

Alberta's Athabasca oil sands "appear to have the greatest potential of any single natural resource" in western Canada's vast and rich northland, it was stated in Edmonton recently by George Hunter, of Winnipeg and Ottawa.

Mr. Hunter is a photographer who has completed a 6,500-mile northern flying project, taking aerial, land and underground photographs on assignment for the federal department of mines and technical surveys, the department of external affairs, the National Film Board, Hudson's Bay Company, Imperial Oil Limited, and a number of base metals, gold and uranium mining companies.

The unique feature of his trip was that it was made in a small wheel-equipped plane. Normally, planes on such a journey would be float equipped at this time of year. But Hunter, who holds a pilot's license, and Harry Dale, the commercial pilot on Hunter's four-place Piper Clipper, found wheel landing conditions fairly good at all stops but two.

At Aklavik, the pair landed on an old dirt road that is being extended for use as an airstrip. At Fort Good Hope, they landed their plane on a gravel bar across the river from the settlement.

"Boats rushed across to us," said Mr. Hunter. "In them were the RCMP, expecting to dig the bodies out of the wrecked, and the clergy expecting to conduct last rites, for the Fort Good Hope residents believed we had crashed. However, the landing was intentional and the sand bar was the only place it was possible."

The pair took only a small percentage of aerial photographs on their trip, the majority of the photographs being land shots, although many were underground photographs of mine workers.

They flew from Edmonton to Fort McMurray, Beaverlodge, Sask., Fort Smith, Fort Resolution, Yellowknife, Fort Simpson, Norman Wells and Aklavik. They then flew to Tuktoyaktuk and over the Arctic Ocean, but were unable to land. They took low aerial photographs of that region, and returned to Aklavik.

On the return journey they landed at Fort Good Hope, Norman Wells, and Sawmill Bay, from where they took a boat across Great Bear Lake to Port Radium. Cold weather which formed an inch of ice on the plane wings held them 3½ days at Sawmill Bay, so they flew back to Yellowknife without returning to Norman Wells. They then visited Fort Simpson, Hay River, Pine Point, returning to Yellowknife and flying to Edmonton from there.

"On the entire journey, the thing we thought had the greatest potential was the oil sands area," said Mr. Hunter. "We took aerials of the tar banks and islands, and of the refinery at Bitumount for the mines and technical surveys department, which is highly interested in promoting the sands along with the Alberta government."

The pair are flying east via Flin Flon and Lynn Lake, Man.

MR. LEO HOGUE

To Train As Airframe Technician

Mr. Leo Hogue recently enlisted in the RCAF (Regular) at Edmonton for training as an Airframe Technician. Leo left for No. 2 Manning Depot, St. Johns, Quebec, on the 12th September, 1952. From there he will journey to a station in southern Ontario to take complete training in his trade. Leo is the son of Mr. E. Hogue, Conklin, Alta.

Married In La Biche, Couple To Reside At Waterways

On September 13, at 5 p.m. in Lac la Biche United Church, the Rev. D. A. Greenough, B.A., B.D., performed the marriage ceremony between Margie, only daughter of Mr. Shafer of Evansburg and John Sandulac, son of Mr. Nick Sandulac of Waterways.

The church was gaily decorated for the single ring ceremony, in which the bride was given away by her brother-in-law, W. C. Switzer.

For her wedding the bride chose a silver grey embossed taffeta dress and was attended by Miss Gene Sandulac, sister of the groom. Miss Sandulac wore a beige wool dress. The groom was attended by his brother, William. Music for the ceremony was provided by Mrs. Lett.

A reception for the couple was held at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. J. A. Switzer. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake and sweet peas and gladioli.

Wearing a wine crepe, Mrs. W. C. Switzer, sister of the groom, received the guests.

For a short honeymoon to Edmonton, the bride wore a wine suit with grey accessories.

The couple will reside in Waterways.

New River Scow Launched

LAC LA BICHE — September 18 saw the completion of a new river scow, constructed by the Forestry Department at Lac la Biche. It was launched for a trial run in Lac la Biche and proved to be seaworthy. The vessel, powered by a 25 h.p. Universal inboard motor, is 30 feet in length with a seven foot beam, and equipped with a roomy cabin, 12 foot plywood lifeboat with a seven h.p. outboard motor. The scow will be shipped by N.A.R. to Ft. McMurray where it will be based for use by the Department in navigation of the Athabasca and Slave rivers.

But knowledge to their eyes her ample page.

Rich with the spoils of time, ne'er unroll.

BATTLE OF BRITAIN RECALLED—With their exploits immortalized in the superb prose of Winston Churchill, and with the free world forever in their debt, the "famous few," who held back the tide of Nazi aggression in the summer of 1940, will again be saluted this weekend (21 September) when Battle of Britain Sunday is commemorated. Church parades and memorial services at RCAF units across the country will once more recall the significance of those eventful days when the destiny of Britain lay in the balance, and the skill and courage of a few fighter pilots snatched victory from the skies. The composite picture above recalls that period of courage and high endeavour. (Top left) A squadron of Spitfires en route to intercept the enemy. (Top right) Members of No. 1 Canadian Fighter Squadron, with their commanding officer in the centre, Group Captain Ernest McNab, OBE, DFC. (Bottom left) London's Tower Bridge, symbolizing the strength and dignity of the city it graces. (Bottom right) The beautiful window of the Battle of Britain Memorial Chapel in Westminster Abbey. In this section of the window, a pilot is depicted kneeling before the Incarnation, with the Child Christ raising his little hand in blessing.

Freedom was brief but exciting for this monkey who escaped from Toronto pet shop. He nonchalantly sat on front lawns while children fed him candy. But police captured him with a net, put him in jail. He was having such a fine time swinging from bar to bar that police had to capture him a second time, and return him to the pet shop, where he is shown here, properly subdued, in a bird cage.

This photo, from Los Angeles, shows the first of 126 slot machines removed from Tony Cornero Stralla's gambling boat, the Bunker Hill, go overboard outside the harbor. The U.S. recently seized the ship on the ground that its coastwise trading licence was violated when it was used for gambling purposes. Montreal, when it gets them, disposes of slot machines in a more direct style—with sledge hammers.

WD TRACTION BOOSTER

Gives You More Work Power

When you set the hydraulic lever on the WD Tractor, you can add as much as a thousand pounds of weight on the rear tractor wheels.

As the drawbar load increases, the hydraulic system uses the weight of the implement plus the weight of the soil to bear down on the wheels. Location of the implement behind the tractor gives it leverage, which multiples implement weight at the tractor axle.

It's entirely automatic. The tractor selects the amount of weight needed. And it's all a part of the complete WD hydraulic system—no extra equipment.

Stop in and let us show you how the WD will do drawbar jobs which ordinarily require a much heavier tractor.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

Ready for the Worst

Dorothy—"How long is it to my birthday?"
Mother—"Not very long, dear."
Dorothy—"Well, is it time for me to begin to be a good girl?"

Think Again, Ma'am

Friend—Say, there's a bunch of people outside to see you. Among them is a bishop who says he married you sometime ago.
Film Actress—Gee, I'm practically certain I never married a bishop.

Hospitality First

And then there is the well known but shy actor, who dropped into a Broadway restaurant very early in the morning, or very late the other night, any way you want to put it.

He sat at a table and waited—and waited. Three waiters, at a table in the rear, were earnestly playing pinocle. Finally, after long minutes, the proprietor sauntered through and caught the situation at a glance.

"That's how it is!" he roared. "I got three waiters and they can't even wait on one lousy customer."

Art or Utility?

A CWA artist was commissioned to paint murals in the reptile house at the Natural zoo.

He turned to admire his work and discovered an energetic lizard climbing up a tree trunk neatly painted on the side of his cage.

"Come—look!" shouted the artist to Dr. William M. Mann, the zoo director. "How's that for art? Even fools the lizard."

Nice Lad

A lady was entertaining the small son of her married friend.

"Are you quite sure you can cut your meat, Willy?" she asked, after watching him for a moment.

"Oh, yessum," he replied without looking up. "We often have it as tough as this at home."

U.S. Swine and Swine Products Prohibited

OTTAWA—Effective immediately all import into Canada from the United States of swine, uncooked pork, pork products, pork offal and garbage is prohibited under authority of the Animal Contagious Diseases Act, it was announced by Dr. T. Childs, veterinary director general of the federal department of agriculture.

This action was taken because of the prevalence in the United States of 'vesicular exanthema' a highly infectious disease of swine, which if introduced into Canada could cause serious damage to the Canadian swine industry.

Vesicular exanthema closely resembles foot and mouth disease, but it is entirely confined to swine, whereas foot and mouth disease affects cattle and sheep in addition to swine.

What's in the Name? STAVELY

The town of Stavely was named after Alexander Stavely Hill, QC, MP, Judge Advocate of the Fleet, who organized the Oxley Ranch in 1882, naming it after his residence, Oxley Manor, Wolverhampton. He visited the district in 1881-2-3-4, and is the author of "From Home to Home" which he wrote in 1884. He died in 1905.

The population of Stavely in 1946 was 299. The town is some 71 miles south of Calgary situated in a ranching and farming area.

For a word-picture, Stavely is comprised of one drug store, three general stores, five garages and service stations, one bank, two barbers, one hotel, two hardware, one lumber yard; one meat market, four restaurants, one theatre, and other business places.

TURNER VALLEY

With a population of around 1,157 people the town of Turner Valley, some 38.2 miles from Calgary via Midnapore, was named after Robert and James Turner, who homesteaded in the north end of the valley in 1886. Both Turpers were well-known horse and cattle breeders.

The prominent types of occupations carried on within the region are oil well production and grain farming.

Little Douglas was using his fretsaw at top speed, cutting out toy airplanes one after another. His grandfather watched him a few minutes, then rebuked him mildly for his careless work. "If you didn't do them so fast, son, you would do a better job", he said.

Douglas paused, while he wiped his forehead with a grimy little paw, then declared, "But I can't Grandad. You see, I am working on mass production."

Fire Protection Week— Oct. 5-11

In the rush to designate weeks to further the cause of some particular project, the really important ones may tend to be overlooked. By Royal Proclamation at Ottawa, October 5th to 11th has been designated "Fire Protection Week."

It is alarming to learn from the Proclamation that in the last ten years 534,777 fires in Canada have destroyed property valued at $542 million. In that time 4,087 persons have lost their lives and it is estimated that at least 15,000 others have been seriously injured as a result of fire.

What the Proclamation cannot show, of course, is the number of lives that could have been saved; the value of property that could have been protected; if a systematic inspection had been made beforehand of all conditions likely to cause or promote the spread of fire.

Apart from the obvious inspection of public buildings; fire drill in schools, factories and offices; education in fire protection in schools, to Boy Scout groups and the like; every householder can be a voluntary fire warden by checking his own home for fire hazards.

An obvious place to start is in the basement with the furnace pipes — a frequent cause of fire. And the average basement is cluttered with inflammable material that serves little purpose except to add fuel to a potential fire. It's best out on the city or town dump.

Faulty electric switches are best replaced, they're worn out anyway and can be a fire hazard. An open fireplace without a guard — particularly with children around — is an unnecessary risk. A faulty chimney can bring fire-producing sparks. The modern home is full of labor-saving devices and comforts which in good condition are harmless, but worn out or faulty, can spell disaster through fire.

Yes, "Fire Protection Week" is one week that should be taken seriously. A couple of hours spent by every householder in checking possible hazards would be amply repaid by a reduction in fire losses in Canada. And fire protection brings ease of mind.

Grain Handlers' Power

Power of 1400 grain handlers to thwart and impede the work of two million farmers and others interested in the production of grain was made clear when employees of grain companies at Port Arthur and Fort William threatened to go on strike early in September.

Fortunately, the strike was averted, when the handlers' demands were partially satisfied. The Union demands included a reduction in the work week from 48 to 40 hours and an increase in wages of 40c per hour. This would considerably boost the previous scales of $228.00 to $300.00 per month.

With the west's greatest crop in process of being delivered, the strike of 1400 grain handlers COULD have tied up the delivery and marketing most effectively.

Correcting The Flax Myth

Many people seem to be of the opinion that flax is hard on the land. Such, however, does not appear to be the case, according to results of experiments over the past 60 years at the agricultural experimental station at Fargo, North Dakota.

A plot of land there, which has grown flax continuously without the aid of fertilizer since 1890, last year produced an average of 20 bushels per acre. A report from the station in 1898 showed the average yield to be 12.3 bushels per acre.

Tests made on the straw and chaff as well as the grain showed that producing a good average crop of flax removed less nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium from the soil than did wheat, oats or barley.

Eisenhower on Social Security

One of the most vital of social security measures is that affecting the health of the individual. In the United States, as in Canada, many people feel that with socialized medicine the fear of sickness, with large hospital and doctor bills would forever be banished from the lives of people who cannot afford, under the present system, to be sick.

Now comes General Eisenhower, who from his boyhood days never had to dig into his own pocket for as much as an aspirin tablet or a toothbrush, with the astounding assertion that he is opposed to socialized medicine. At $18,000 per year pension as a retired general of the U.S. Army it is easy for Mr. Eisenhower, Republican candidate for the presidency of the United States, to tell poor workmen and others they should stand on their own two feet when it comes to doctor bills, hospital expenses and the high costs for medicines with which some unfortunates are faced.

This reminds us of a judge of the Supreme Court of Canada telling a class of university graduates to work for, not materialistic things in life, but to strive for the higher ambitions of the spirit. If a hard-working priest or minister, getting $1,800 per year, tells us that, we are willing to listen with a mark of respect.

But when a justice, appointed for life to the Bench at $25,000 per year tells us not to worry about making money, we blink our eyes and swallow hard.

Dollar Up; Wheat Down

Canadian money is now rated as the most valuable in the world. This may be a source of pride to the people of this country, but it does not work out so well for primary producers dependent to a large extent on export markets. The premium position of the Canadian dollar brings down the price of exports.

In the case of wheat, the International Wheat Agreement provides for a ceiling price of $1.80, but that price was based on the value of Canadian money in March, 1949. Canadian money now is more valuable than it was then in the opinion of the world, and so the ceiling price has declined accordingly. The average price for 1 northern wheat at Fort William during the month of July was $1.74½ a bushel or 5½ cents below the $1.80 ceiling. As wheat agreement prices are the standard for domestic prices, there was a similar decline for wheat sold for Canadian consumption.

Full Speed Ahead

With threat of a grain handlers strike over for the time being, and most of the seasonal hazards a thing of the past for this year, it is "full speed ahead" for the Western grain crop.

The federal bureau of statistics now estimates Canada's 1952 wheat crop at 675 million bushels. This compares with the previous highest estimate of 665 million bushels. The previous highest Canadian wheat crop was 567 million bushels in 1928.

With all the modern harvesting machinery of 1952 one wonders how the farmers of 1928 managed to harvest so much grain with the comparatively old-fashioned machinery of 24 years ago. It has taken nearly a quarter of a century to beat that 1928 record!

Let's hope and pray that good harvest weather, with warm, dry days and cool dry nights prevails in Alberta until the crop is harvested. Let's hope, too, that marketing of the grain is facilitated to move the crop to the hungry markets of the world.

LETTER OF APPRECIATION

Pardon us for the delay, but both Mrs. Weadick and I wish to sincerely thank you for the nice mention you made of us in your paper and the many other courtesies we received from all hands during our Edmonton visit. We both trust that your paper will continue to thrive and prosper.

RUGGED INDIVIDUALIST

"Lately I read a letter lamenting that social security didn't exist because there was a long time to wait between baby bonus and old age pension. I wonder what has gone wrong with people. Don't we know that the more social security we have the more taxes we pay. Money has to come from some place in order to pay the Old Age Pension, Family Allowance and other benefits. Here is one reader that would like to see more determination on the part of the individual to make their own way in life. We live in a wonderful country of opportunity, let's stop wondering how much more we can get out of the Government, and get down to business and save for our own security. Our fathers built this country, and they wouldn't take a dollar unless they earned it.

HARD WORKER.

VS. BOOZE BUSINESS

In September 11 issue Mr. Puc discusses liquor advertising in Alberta papers.

I am opposed to it on these grounds. Drinking is the cause of untold misery. To it can be charged most of the moral disintegration of youth. Diabolically clever liquor advertising often starts one youth in so-called "harmless" social drinking, which all too often develops into chronic drinking.

Mr. Puc makes a good point re periodicals from outside the Province entering our homes with their liquor advertising. Well! at least we can give preference to non-advertising periodicals.

It may seem inconsistent for the Alberta Government to sell liquor while banning advertising—but it seems the only course open to them. I have never voted Social Credit, but in fairness to them I feel they are doing the best they can about booze, short of nationalizing it (which I favor) but which the public has never given them a mandate to do. It seems that some people will have it anyway, so let the Government make some money out of it with which to try and repair a little of the damage it causes, and to educate by advertising against liquor.

But let us not allow Brewers' advertising which always makes it appear smart and attractive rather than sordid and enslaving.

OPEN CHURCH AT BOYLE

Replying to William Sullivan on his question of daily baptisms and the services of the Church. "Yes, the church at Boyle and throughout the Boyle and Lac la Biche Missions are always open and can be used for private devotions or any public or private service, also the clergy are always glad to be of service at any time. I think that if the average person used the House of God more often it would have a tendency to curb moral delinquency and bring people and especially parents, to a right understanding, as to what is meant by serving God and mammon.

It becomes a personal matter between God and man, and man must work out his own salvation and even this is not a public affair. (When ye pray, pray in secret and your Father who is in Heaven will grant you your heart's desires.)

So, come to church and spend a few minutes with God each day, in the beauty, the peace and the knowledge of having been with God.

HENRY G. HARPER.

St. Paul's Church,
Boyle, Alberta.

HEART CHAMPION

A word in defence of that much maligned little hero the human heart. Contrary to medical science there is no such thing as heart failure, instead there is a limit to the amount of abuse a heart can take. It is my fervent hope that the bureau of vital statistics will take cognizance of this fact and in future accept heart failure only as an effect, not a cause.

WOODWARD OF BOYLE.

NEW PADRE — Flight Lieutenant Rev. M. Galbraith of Rockyford, Alta. (right) is invested with the Chaplain's Scarf by Group Captain R. M. Frayne, (centre) Director of Religious Administration (Protestant) at Air Force Headquarters, during a brief but impressive induction service held in the Station Chapel at RCAF Station, Trenton, Ontario. On the left, Squadron Leader E. Light, Assistant to the Director of Religious Administration, holds the specially inscribed Divine Service Book for the Armed Forces which was also presented to F/L Galbraith. F/L Galbraith has had considerable previous Air Force experience, as he served as a Physical Training and Drill Instructor from 1941 to 1945, attaining the rank of Flight Lieutenant before retiring. F/L Galbraith is a happily married man with five children. His wife is the former Jean Spice of Yorkton, Saskatchewan. — (National Defence Photo).

ROCKYFORD PASTOR RECEIVES CHAPLAIN'S SCARF IN RCAF

TRENTON, Ont. — In a simple and yet impressively sincere induction service, held in the chapel of this RCAF Station, two United Church ministers, F/L Rev. M. Galbraith of Rockyford, Alta., and F/L Rev. J. H. McAvary of Brockville, Ont., were today received into the chaplaincy service of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

The little chapel bright in a flood of golden loveliness from the clear September sun, seemed most appropriately dedicated to the occasion, as the choir opened the service with the singing of the invocation.

From across the distant aerodrome and high in the open sky could be heard the steady drone of aircraft, weaving their endless pattern into a free nations plan for universal peace.

Perhaps, as this outward sound of activity reached into the chapel, the two chaplains recalled momentarily other days and other occasions when both had worn the uniform of the RCAF under conditions of war. Now under conditions of peace, they returned to that service, not as warriors but as followers and messengers of the Great Prince of Peace.

The scripture reading was conducted by F/L the Rev. E. Light, of Ottawa and the induction read by Wing Commander the Rev. J. Dunn of Montreal. Group Captain the Rev. R. M. Frayne, director of religious administration (Protestant) conducted the investiture.

The service was attended by Air Commodore W. W. Brown, CD, Acting Air Officer Commanding, Land Title Case Postponed Until Jan.

EDMONTON — An Alberta farmer's right to $1,000,000 in mineral rights was postponed until January at the Appellate Division court, which opened in Edmonton Monday.

The case, expected to have far-reaching effects on land titles in the province, involves an appeal by the Canadian Pacific Railway and Imperial Oil Limited against an Alberta Supreme Court judgment, which awarded Anton Turta of the Leduc district the mineral petroleum rights on his land.

According to evidence given to the Supreme Court last Spring, the case hinges on a mistake by the Alberta land titles office in 1908, when the registrar added the words "and petroleum" and when the CPR took over a quarter section of land for development. The original title had only reserved to the CPR all coal found on the land, and the Supreme Court ruled the correction made by the registrar was not valid.

Court officials say the case is important as if the Supreme Court decision is reversed and registrars have the right to make correction in land transfer titles. Alberta's Torrens system of land titles will be nullified. Under the system when a piece of land is purchased, the purchaser owns everything not reserved in the existing title.

The case is expected to go to the Supreme Court of Canada before a final decision is reached.

All things I thought I knew; but now confess.

The more I know I know, I know the less. —Owen.

Training Command, and Group Captain J. B. Millward DFC, Commanding Officer, RCAF, Station Trenton, as well as a number of members of the congregation and friends from the town of Trenton. Corporal Gordon Findley was the organist.

During the war both of the chaplains saw service in Canada and overseas.

F/L the Rev. M. Galbraith, serving from 1941 to 1945 in the Physical Training and Drill instruction branch, while F/L the Rev. J. H. McAvary served in Aircrewmen from 1942 until the cessation of hostilities. F/L Galbraith has since served charges in Manitoba and Alberta with the United Church. He is married, Mrs. Galbraith being the former Jean Spice of Yorkton, Sask. They have five children.

F/L McAvary has served charges since ordination in both Ontario and Manitoba. Mrs. McAvary is the former Jacqueline Burns of Brockville, Ontario, they have three daughters.

LETTERS TO LOUISA

Dear Louisa:

My husband and I have always got along together nicely. He worked and I kept the house. When he came home in the evening I always had a nice dinner for him and in the morning a good breakfast before he went to work. My housework and marketing took several hours of the day but it left me with time to do what I wished or rest. After dinner if we wished to go out, I stacked my dishes and did them after I got in or the next morning. I did not ask my husband to help as I felt that my work was no harder than his.

But now I have a problem. Several months ago we decided to buy a home and we could not do this unless I went back to work. I got my old job as a stenographer but now I have to leave home early in the morning and I get home
the same time my husband does.

Notwithstanding the fact that we both have outside work, he still thinks that I should do all of the housework. I rush around getting breakfast while he reads the morning paper and when I get home, he expects me to get dinner while he looks at television, and then he has the nerve to say that the meals do not taste as good as they used to. He also complains that I don't like to go out in the evenings like we did before.

What can I do? If I keep on like this, I'll be a nervous wreck.

LOUISE B.

Answer:

Before you went back to work
you should have talked the matter over with your husband and had him agree to help with the housework if you took an outside job.

Housework was considered woman's work in the days when very few women did anything else and the man provided the money to pay the bills. But when a woman has to take on an additional job to help pay expenses, the present-day husband realizes that she is helping him do his job and the only fair plan is for him to help her with hers.

I know one man of a working couple who vacuums the house and keeps the bathrooms as his regular job. He also lends a hand with the dishes if they are going out in the evening and will start the dinner if he gets home first.

Try to make your husband understand that you are helping him with his job and, in all fairness to you, he should help you with yours.

LOUISA.

Changes, High Cost Of School Books

EAST EDMONTON—The first Home and School Association meeting for this district was held in the East Edmonton school on September 9, with 24 parents attending.

A social evening was planned for later on this fall, to be held in the East Edmonton community hall. The teachers from each school will be invited to help prepare the program with items from the children of the different schools. Admission to this entertainment will be 35c for adults and 10c for children. Coffee, doughnuts and pop will be served at a nominal charge.

A lively discussion was held regarding the high cost of books and the many changes made from year to year.

Many of the books could not be passed from pupil to pupil, making it necessary to buy new ones each year.

How many parents have paid out money for books costing $2, $3, or even more, only to find they were not usable or saleable the following year? Some of the books weren't even ready and could not be bought.

Wedding LUC—HUPPIE

EGG LAKE — On September 16 a lovely wedding was celebrated in Lac la Biche Mission Catholic Church by Rev. J. Cabana, O.M.I., when Miss Vina Huppie, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Huppie, was married to Nick Luc, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Luc of Plamondon.

The bride wore a full skirted gown of sheer rayon and nylon net over gleaming rayon satin and a floor-length veil. Her only jewellery was a two-strand pearl necklace, gift of the bridegroom. Her bouquet was of white carnations.

The bridesmaids were the bride's sister, Delia and Miss Laurette L'Heureux. The best men were the groom's brother, Peter, and Amedee Duperron. Delia wore a blue taffeta gown and Laurette a pink gown. Both had chapel veils.

Dinner was served at the home of the bride to the two families and supper was also served at the home of the bride's parents. Everybody had a lovely time and there was a free dance in Lac la Biche Hall after supper. A large crowd attended.

The bride and groom will reside at Plamondon.

Out-of-town guests were the bride's sister, Alice, who motored from Edmonton with her husband, John Levesque, for the occasion. The bride's brother, George, also came from Mundare for his sister's wedding.

Miss Delia Huppie spent the week-end visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arsene Duperron last week.

Mr. Robert Allan also spent the week-end at the Duperron home.
